POLYSACCHARIDE PEPTIDES
from BROWN RICE

Nutrition; it is the cornerstone of your health. It can sway how you feel, and determine how you live. Now available for you is Alfa PXP Forte. Created from select rice grains from deep within the Siam Valley of Thailand, Alfa PXP Forte is harvested at its optimum age using sophisticated proprietary technology. Polysaccharides, polypeptides, and other essential nutrients from these select rice grains are bonded together to form alpha glycans, which can be directly absorbed into your cells.

The energy necessary for cells to accomplish daily tasks are stored in energy rich molecules such as polysaccharides. They are able to enhance the production of mitochondria which are the "powerhouses" of the cell. This allows for the DNA repair and cellular regeneration which is critical in maintaining optimum health throughout one's lifetime. Alfa PXP Forte is a multi-purpose functional food, combining polysaccharide peptides, essential amino acids, and antioxidants to create a natural balance within the body.

Don't let your body down by giving it a life of poor nutrition. Instead, use it to its fullest by protecting it today, tomorrow, and forever.
